Maclean Computing Limited

Nobilo Wine Group Ltd first entered into a Support Plan agreement with Maclean Computing Ltd four years ago.

It was important to us that we develop a relationship with a professional IT service company who could provide us with timely and cost effective support and proactive maintenance visits and would also work with us to plan for and manage our network requirements over time.

We have enjoyed a close working relationship with the team at Maclean Computing. Their Account Manager and site engineers have always acted on our behalf to ensure that our network runs smoothly.

I would not hesitate in recommending a Maclean Computing Support Plan to any business looking for professional IT support.

Yours sincerely
